

BEOWULF'S ULTIMATE GUIDE TO MONSTER KILLING!

Armour and weaponry

You will have to have the right armour and weaponry to kill a beast. You will need a clean and sharp sword with a strong grip on the handle so you can use the weapon with skill. You will need a bow and arrow or at least know how to use one. A shield will be very useful to defend yourself with and possibly a spike in the centre in case your weapon brakes or you lose it. You will need the strongest armour you can find which ideally has been forged together by Gungans from the ocean of Naboo.

Preparing for battle

As muck as your skill and armour might save you, you might still die so be ready with your will wrote; say goodbye to all your family and friends and you should study the monster you are facing so you have more chance of survival and you will the know it's weak points. If the beast is strong you might need a mini army to back you up but they must be superbly well trained using the best of your ability to have more chance if the beast attacks them but they must be ready for the worst. They must be suitably armoured and weaponised but make sure they can carry the armour with ease.

Strategy

You will need a strategy to defeat the beast thus preparations would be used so you can be ready. Your battle will be fatal if you attack a nine necked cyclops or a beast like that without a plan of attack.

The element of surprise

This strategy is made up of three steps: surprise attack and kill. To surprise you must hide all your men so the beast is unaware but if one of your men is seen your attack will fail and the beast will have the upper hand. To attack you should be silent, stealthy and ideally strike its back before surrounding it and making sure it can't escape. Finally to kill it carry on with the attack until either you hit it in a fatal part of its body or it falls to the ground and you make sure it is dead by cutting off its head.

The element of brains

Humans are infinitely cleverer than any other life form so this strategy involves entirely on your brain. This tactic defeats all beasts and relies on what you think is the smartest thing to do. You can use this tactic whenever.

Beasts you may encounter

Not all beasts are evil so before you attack any you need proof that they are evil and need stopping. Ask the lord or lady of the land for proof that the monster is real.

Nine Necked Cyclops

This beast may be common but is a killer to the core. They stay in packs of eight and are giant. If you see a pack of them don't attack without backup and you should tell the owner of the land their on immediately. WARNING: don't take them on alone ever!

Freaky Long Zombat

This monster is a tricker because it makes its victims think that is harmless and lovely. Once you believe it is nice it will eat you on the spot to then be digested for over one thousand years. You should use a bow and arrow to snipe the beast so it cannot eat you and you can kill it easily. The beast can't move so if you stay back it is an easy target.

WARNING: don't fall for the trick!

Common Nogbeatle

This is on the easier end of the monsters you may face. The Common Nogbeatle is the size of a common wolf and attacks like a vicious wolf but runs faster than any beast known to man. it hunts in packs of twenty to fifty but if they are not hunting they are commonly in ones or twos. This beast you should never face with hunting dog because they out match dogs by a long shot. They are easily killed if you hit them but it is really hard to hit so have a mini army. WARNING: they are super-fast so are super dangerous.

Taking care of yourself

When you are fighting an evil beast it is easy for you to get to ahead of yourself and take risks that are not worth taking. To Stay safe you need to remind yourself that it is useless to kill yourself and if you are going to die you should die in a nice way. Don't be cocky when fighting a beast as they may surprise you. Do not get drunk before fighting a beast because that would lead to dumb decisions that could lead to death.

How to secure your battles and rewards

You never want to lose a battle to a monster or not have your promised reward given so you should take extra care of what you say you will do or do in battle. Ask for payment in advance so you cannot get ripped off and tricked. Take long care and time into how to attack the beast so you cannot lose so easily to it. Look at the history of the person who is meant to be giving you riches to see if they have given gold in the same way before.
