

Beowulf's great guide for Monster
slayers

Weaponry

In order to be a monster slayer, you have to have all different weapons in order to slay any monster although you need to take care of them and sharpen to make it work.

Sword- The sword can't destroy anyone [like all weapons] unless you sharpen it using an anvil and a flat piece of stone that happens two times a week. It can know be used to kill a dragon, black witch as well as cut a goblin skull.*

Spear- The spear can be used if you sharpen it with a bucket of lava underneath with the spear above it then get coal and bang it on the head of the spear then that sharpens it. When you have sharpened it*

You need to put the head in water to clean it scrub it with stone pointy or flat then you can kill a three handed monster, goblin and a demon.

Armour

You will need armour to protect and help you in battle as well as it must be 5cm thick that fits you. The armour can't be normal it has to be crafted by a white witch and enchanted with a demons skull and a sparrow's bone. Soon you will need to wash it so don't use water encase you scrub the enchantment off so you use a wet dragons tong.

Preparing for battle

To get ready you will need to either send a letter to your parents or tell them in person that you may die and if not you will probably be covered in bruises. If you want to succeed you will need a good sleep and a big breakfast. Make a great big back pack then pack food and water plus get a belt to put all your weapons in.

Strategy

You must have a plan to kill the monster you will be facing by either surprise, ambush or stealth. If you chose surprise you will probably hide and sneak up behind it and slay it. If ambush you will come face to face and hit it try and hit you then find a way to distract it and take the monster down. Last but not least stealth you will need to keep low and be fast and when it gets its hands down you cut them off with your weapon then when it can't attack you go for the heart and slay it.

Beasts you may encounter

The beasts you will encounter are either a goblin, dragon, three handed monster, demon or some black witches.

If you do encounter these beasts then make sure you read the rest of the guide.

Taking care of your self

If you flow into danger such as volcanceoes, stampede of bulls and even pit traps set by clever monsters. If so you need equipment like ropes, water, speed and maybe pickaxes to climb out of pits with the rope too small to use.

Battles How to choose your and secure your rewards

Monster slaying is hard so some monsters aren't worth it because there either too hard to beat or you're not sure they will give the reward they promised. so only do it for the people you trust and maybe try on the little goblins first to get better at monster slaying.
