

Homework due in on Friday 5th October 2018

These pictures show the village of Boscastle in Cornwall during and after a terrible flood in 2004. You have several choices for your homework. For all of them you will need to do some research. If you don't have the internet at home you are welcome to ask me to give you some time at school. Please be sure to work with an adult to find suitable information that is easy for you to use and understand.

- Find out more about the floods and write an information text or poster about it
- Write a newspaper report about what happened
- Imagine you were there and write a diary entry from the day of the flood or the days after it.

If you are feeling really ambitious why not try more than one of the options?
